

Specialist Support Coordination

Reducing barriers and complexity in your support environment, to help you make the most of the NDIS

Yooralla's Specialist Support Coordination service supports people with disability with exceptionally complex support needs and aims to reduce any barriers or challenges to achieving their NDIS goals and accessing supports. Our experienced team can help NDIS participants navigate through the different stages of their NDIS journey.

Our team

Our team of Specialist Support Coordinators have extensive experience and training in the disability sector and come from a range of backgrounds including allied health, psychology and social work. We are responsive, respectful, and skilled in working with people with a wide range of disabilities and complex support needs including physical, intellectual, psychosocial, or sensory impairments. We are excellent and efficient communicators who are passionate about empowering you to live the life you choose. We understand the local communities we service and are specially trained in working with people from diverse cultural backgrounds.

How we can help

We will work closely with you and your support network to support you to achieve your NDIS goals. We will:

- support you to build capacity and resilience
- develop an outcome-focused complex support plan tailored to your needs
- connect you with a strong support team and specialist services (NDIS funded and mainstream)
- resolve or prepare for potential crisis situations.
- work with your support team and seek specialist advice to manage any risks in your situation, and
- monitor your progress towards your NDIS goals and the performance of the support services you use.
